MAN TAKES HIS LIFE AS HIS WIFE
EMPTIES WHISKY FROM BOTTLE.James J. Mitts Following Release From Police Station
Drinks Carboic Acid at His Home

LIFE MARRIED BY ACCIDENT.

"You Drink That and I'll Drink This,"
Said Mitts, Giving Woman Whisky
and Drawing Vial of Acid—Death Came at Once.

"While you're drinking that I'll drink this," said James J. Mitts to his wife, as he pulled a two-ounce bottle of carboic acid out of his pocket and took the cork from it. Sipping his actions to his words, he placed the bottle to his lips and gulped down the contents yesterday afternoon and died half an hour later. His mouth was terribly burned, but only one little black streak marred his face where a tiny stream of the poison escaped from his mouth.

Mitts had been drinking very heavily lately and was only released from the police station yesterday morning. He was arrested Wednesday night for drunkenness and given a hearing on Thursday morning. His condition was deplorable, his inebriation having made him very sick and nervous. Burgess, however, thought that it was best to detain him a while, and he was kept in jail until Friday morning, when after having worked about the building and apparently recovered from the effects of his last spree, he was released and promised to go home immediately.

Before doing so, he accumulated enough to partially intoxicate him and took this with him to his home at Wheeler. His wife received him kindly, and upon learning that he had a pint of whisky with him, endeavored to have him give it to her. He sat down on the back steps of his home and the two conversed for a while, when she asked him to give her the bottle to get a drink of it. He supposed she knew that she wanted to take it away from him altogether, but finally handed it over in a pleasant manner after she remarked that she would like to have a drink of it.

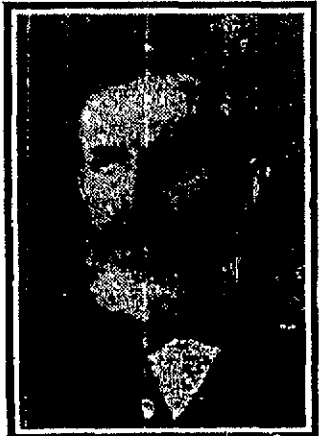

She took the cork out of the bottle and was about ready to empty it when Mitts remarked rather sadly: "While you are drinking that I'll drink this." In a moment and before Mrs. Mitts could interfere the bottle was empty and the soul of Mitts was on its way to eternity. Dr. J. C. McCleathran was called, but the man was past all human aid when he arrived.

James J. Mitts was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitts of Versailles. His father is one of the oldest men in the Baltimore & Ohio service and for years has been running the Versailles accommodation. James Mitts was 38 years old and learned his trade as a machinist in the Baltimore & Ohio shops. He bore the reputation of being one of the best machinists at the trade and for years was a steady conscientious workman, never missing a day and always performing his work in a faithful manner. About ten years ago he met with an accident in the Baltimore & Ohio yards when he was struck by the Duquesne Limited. His arms were injured in this accident and the great strength of these members was weakened so much that he could not continue at his trade. This accident marred his life and from that time on he was compelled to seek other occupations which were harder for him to perform and at which the pay was much less. Frequently he would be out of work and from being a steady going hard toiler he drifted about and finally began going on long sprees which continued to grow until at the time of his death his health was broken. He made many efforts in the past few years to keep away from the habit and would frequently stay sober and upright for months, then suddenly fall from grace. As many times as he appeared before the Burgess he never denied that he had been drinking and usually made an effort to try to do better. Recently his drinking made him so weak and ill that he became despondent. His only fault seemed to be his inebriation, and everyone always had a good word to say for him and always spoke highly of his ability as a machinist.

He is survived by his widow and five children, four sisters and five half sisters. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Chestnut Hill cemetery.

Uniontown Using Yough Water.
UNIONTOWN, Aug. 15.—The town's water supply is short and it is being supplemented by half a million gallons of water per day from the Yough river. The water is pumped into the Trotter Water Company's reservoir and thence into the Cool Spring reservoir.

The Weather
Showers and cooler tonight and Sunday is the indication at noon.

JOHN WORTH KERN.

John Worth Kern, a running mate has long been one of the most popular Democrats of Indiana and made a splendid fight for the Governorship of that State several years ago against vastly superior odds. He was born in Howard county, Ind., in 1819, and at five years of age his parents removed to Iowa, but at the end of 10 years the family returned to Indiana. He graduated at the State Normal School of Indiana, and taught school and later studied law. His home is in Indianapolis where he is President of the important Commercial Club and has the confidence of the business interests of his city. He married Miss Araminta Cooper and has three children: John W., Jr., William Cooper and Miss Julia.

FIFTEEN NEW SUITS
FOR DAMAGES ENTEREDWomen Widowed by Darr Disaster
Enter Claims for Compensation
Aggregating $675,000.

Fifteen suits for damages, aggregating $675,000, were filed in United States Circuit Court in Pittsburgh Friday morning against the Pittsburgh Coal Company as a result of the Darr mine disaster at Jacobs Creek, West moreland county December 19, 1907. The suits allege negligence on behalf of the owners in having only one air shaft, permitting the removal of pillars and the failure to have the mine properly inspected.

The suits filed are in addition to the 18 suits filed about a month ago. The plaintiffs are represented by W. S. Anderson & Son of Youngstown. The suits are by Mrs. Annie Hough in behalf of herself and five children for the death of her husband, Solomon. She asks $75,000. The suits for $50,000 damages are by Mrs. Anna Nicholson, and three children for the death of her husband, Benjamin L. L. NEW DIRECTORY IS SOON TO BE ISSUED.Book of Residents of Connellville, Uniontown and New Haven to Be Issued in Two Weeks

A new directory of Connellville, Uniontown, New Haven and South Connellville will be issued by J. H. Lant, the veteran directory compiler, within the next two weeks. The territory has been canvassed and a good portion of the book is already in the press.

In going over the territory this year Mr. Lant found many new residents of the towns but he also found that quite a few who have resided in these towns have moved away some of them on account of their health others for business reasons and not a few going to other places in search of work. The Courier Company is printing the directory which it has done for many years.

Completion of Railroad Branch Means
Much for Coal Companies

IRWIN, Pa., August 15.—The new Pennsylvania railroad branch from Pottsville to the southward line to the McGee mine of the Westmoreland Coal Company south of Irwin was turned over to the operating department today and coal trains will be run tomorrow. Passenger service will be given soon.

The branch is six miles long and opens up a new territory for coal. There are five bridges. The Westmoreland Coal Company has 50,000 tons of coal stored for immediate loading while the daily output is 600 tons.

Production has just been started and when the equipment is finished the mine will have a capacity of 3,000 tons a day. The company has 1,000 acres of coal here and borings in the tract show that it is the thickest vein of Pittsburgh gas coal in the field.

CITY IN GAY GARB
READY FOR KNIGHTS.Decorations for Big Pythian
Convention Completed
Today.

WILL RECALL CENTENNIAL

Parade on Thursday Will Find Thousands of Lodgers in Line With Many Bands and Throngs of Visitors.

Strenuous decorating and the putting on of Connellville's holiday dress continues and today the town saw the completion of the work to be done on next of the building for the big Knight of Pythias convention to be held here on August 18, 19, 20 and 21. The last of the hunting on down town buildings is due to be finished this afternoon while that of the private residences of town will not be finished until Monday afternoon. The decorators have spared no pains in their work and Connellville next week promises to rival the Centennial for color.

The Armory where the Knights of Pythias sessions will be held has been finished as has been the convention hall of the Pythian Sisters, who will hold their meetings in the Title & Trust building. The official headquarters of the Pythian Sisters will be at the Wyman hotel while the male members of the order will maintain their central position at the Marietta hotel.

Preparations for the big parade to be held on Thursday, Uniform Rank Day are moving along swimmingly. The parade will be the regular convention parade consisting of the three nearby regiments the Third, First and Sixth. All delegations from near by towns will be in regular marching order and the parade will be accompanied by four bands and a drum corps of the local Tenth Regiment organization, the Dunbar Cornet Band and the Smith and McKeesport bands and the Mt. Pleasant Drum Corps. The members of the Grand Lodge will be in carriages while the brigade and regimental staff will be on horseback. For the latter purpose 30 horses will have to be secured. This evening Colonel C. F. Critch, Field Captain C. B. Marietta and Captain O. B. Pottsville will go to Confluence, where they will install Company 72 of the Pennsylvania brigade. The Confluence order will send a delegation down here for the entire week.

FOUR KILLED IN
REIGN OF TERROR.Mob at Springfield Destroys
Property and Martial Law Follows.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE HURT

Half Hundred People Injured, Some of Whom Will Die and Town Damaged by Fire—Bullets Struck
Throughout Night.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. Aug. 15.—Martial law governs the city today following the reign of riot, arson and slaughter that held the inhabitants in a state of terror since 9 o'clock last night. Three men have been killed and more than 50 wounded and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed by the mob. The fire is now out. The firemen were intimidated and overawed by the rioters. One thousand additional soldiers arrived this morning to augment the militia which with the police were unable to cope with the situation.

The trouble grew out of an attempt to lynch a negro who assaulted a white woman, and the mob was spirited out of town and the mob lynch in his vengeance immediately turned on the man who had loaned his automobile to the authorities, enabling them to convey the lynch to safety.

Springfield is quiet this morning and views the results of the night's work with unusual regret. More troops are being rushed here by Governor Deussen. The saloons are closed all day and every precaution is being taken to prevent a repetition of the night's disturbance.

In addition to the open cafe 35 places of business occupied by negroes in Washington between Seventh and Tenth streets have been literally torn to pieces. The negro quarters over these places have been emptied and every window shot out. All the open liquor in the saloons was poured out.

About two o'clock this morning Charles Hunter a negro shot James Hayes white who was watching the fire. The mob swung the negro to a tree.

The list of dead includes
LOUIS JOHNSON, shot and from gunshot wounds found at Loper's restaurant.

D. SCOTT, old man struck by steam boiler.
CHARLES HUNTER, negro lynched.
JOHN CALDWELL, shot in hospital.

EDWIN W. CHAPIN, Prohibitionist, seriously injured.

LOUIS HUNTER, shot many times.

W. H. BOW, shot in right lung many times.

SUPERINTENDENT
HOME FROM TRIP.John J. Driscoll Arrives this Morning
From West and Will Take Up Duties.

John J. Driscoll, superintendent of the Connellville Division of the Baltimore & Ohio, arrived home this morning and will take up his duties in his office after an absence of six months spent in the West. Mr. Driscoll suffered a severe attack of pneumonia and for a time his life was despaired of, but he passed through the struggle bravely and his physicians decided that he should take a rest from work and go west.

Accompanied by his wife he went to Colorado where he spent the time at Denver, Colorado Springs and made side trips to various points. His improvement in health was rapid from the time he reached that climate and his friends here are glad to have him return to his duties well and strong. He has been an active railroad man on the Baltimore & Ohio since a little boy and is known by almost every railroad man from Cumberland to Pittsburgh.

While in the West Mr. Driscoll kept in close touch with his division through his chief clerk W. O. Schoon over who has been at the hotel for many years and is a veteran in the Connellville division superintendent's office.

FEW APPLY FOR NATURALIZATION.Big Decrease Noted in Persons Seeking Citizenship in County.

MANY RETURNED TO EUROPE.

Reason Advanced is That on Account of the Business Depression Foreign Element Has Deserted Region for Other Places.

UNIONTOWN, Aug. 15.—There is a big decrease in the number of foreigners applying at the Prothonotary's office for first papers as compared with the figures of a year ago. An examination of the papers shows that the falling off is mostly among the miners and laborers. Tradesmen and skilled workmen are applying for papers in the usual numbers and since the first of the year applications have been filed by representatives of 13 professions their numbers nearly equaling the common laborers and miners. Last year the latter were largely in the majority and the decrease among common laborers is attributed to the departure for the old country of many of this class while those having a trade are well provided with work.

Since the first of January there have been 123 applications for first papers. This is less than during the first eight months of 1908. During that entire year there were 205 applications for first papers, which were granted. Several who applied last year and this year were turned down.

Among the trades and professions represented by the 123 first papers of this year are: Barber, carpenter, stone mason, bricklayer, farmer, potter, clerk, contractor, blacksmith, foundryman, missionary, rabbi, car inspector, watchmaker, salesman. On application, Abrie Company of Uniontown gives his occupation as that of a gentleman and Hungary as his birthplace.

The latest applicant is Vincent James Ciprigno of Connellville who says he is a barber by trade and intends to follow that profession. He was granted his first papers Friday evening and went on his way rejoicing.

The latest applicant is Father Salom Poles, a native of Holland now a resident of Uniontown while the missionary is J. M. Siscoe an Italian also a resident of Uniontown. The only foreign applicant is John Potomiano who manages a farm near West Leaning and announces that he will always remain in this country.

Most of the applicants are from Italy, Austria, Hungary but there are also representatives from Lithuania, France, Germany, Holland and nearly every other foreign country. For this year May has been the best month for naturalization papers. There were 31 applicants for first papers in May, 12 in February, 12 in March, 2 in April, 23 in May, 11 in June, 15 in July and five for the first 11 days of August.

TIME REPORT.

Secretary of State William Root, the president of the U. S. Cabinet, is a wise statesman who believes in the value of a man's word to long life and a happy one. Mr. Root went to Muldoon's Sanatorium near New York City after his serious attack of heart in the state Department and his photo shows the culture of a statesman and a man of great magnitude in his bearing. Mr. Root is under strict discipline at every moment. He must sleep at night in his Muldoon order to him must sleep just as many hours walk of foot miles and must be in bed together he is practically handled like an infant while to him for a foot-bill game.

BOOSTERS' DAY TO ATTRACT BIG CROWD.Two Games and Sports on Program at Baseball Park this Afternoon

After a week's anticipation followed by a strenuous kick selling campaign, Boosters' Day is at hand. The first of the afternoon's doing will begin promptly at 2 o'clock when the Connellville Crokers on the diamond.

The first game will be followed by a new departure in the minor leagues. The program for the day is a field day. The program for these events will be just the same as those held annually in the major leagues the same rules governing these events will be the 100 yard dash with Sunny Price, Lefty Wallace and Davey Calhoun holding up the Connellville end of it. Chasing' the bases beating out a bun' long distance throw, ten cent peg to second base and many others. Following the field contest the second game of the afternoon will be played by Wallace and Birchard or Montgomery's hill selections with the Connellville probable McClelland and Letcher will do the home work.

Tick its for the afternoon have been on sale for a week and have sold well and the directors of the club have every reason to believe that enough money will be made this afternoon to see the club through the rest of the season.

NEW FURNACE FOR
NEW HAVEN SCHOOL.Contract for Modern Heating Apparatus for Building Is Let by Board

At a special meeting of the New Haven School Board last evening the contract for installing a new furnace in the fourth school building, was let to Bill & Son and this firm will install a new Reliance boiler of 2,000 square feet capacity.

The board this year feels elated over the condition in which they have the fourth school building. Every room in the building has been repainted and papered and the building has been renovated throughout and is now ready to the opening of the fall term. The furnace will be installed in ample time for the cold season.

Charge Contractors With Cruelty.
GLENESH, Pa., August 15.—Accompanied by Agents J. H. Ream and John Cleary of Pittsburgh Humane Agent Levi Kling of Gleneshburg went to Gleneshburg yesterday and investigated the alleged cruelty of contractors to horses and mules employed on the construction of a Pennsylvania railroad reservoir. Eighty horses and mules were examined and 12 were found to have sore shoulters. Climate prevented charges of cruelty against the owners.

SOME NOT PERFECTLY CLEAN.

State Health Inspector May Visit
Town A Report Has Been Given Over—Strict Rules Are Laid
Down for Dairymen

Health Officer Allen Hyatt has just completed the inspection of all the dairies in his district nine in all as required by the State Board of Health. In the inspection of the dairies Mr. Hyatt discovered a number of matters that were not strictly in accordance with the rules governing them. The inspection of each dairy requires the filing of a blank that contains every manner and sort of inquiry about the dairies and these will be forwarded to the Health Department for consideration.

While all the dairies are much improved over last year a number of them do not appear to be as cleanly as they should be and at some of them the milk is not handled as required by the State Board. The Board has furnished an extensive notice governing the matters and the Health Officer placed one of them in each dairy stable. These circulars insist upon absolute cleanliness for the cows and also for the persons milking them. In handling the milk it also provides rules for the throwing away of certain kinds of milk.

It is probable that after these reports reach the State Board an inspector will be around over the territory looking in to details gleaned from such reports.

COAL MEN LOSERS
IN JUDGMENT SUIT.New York Trust Company Wins Its Case Against C. Jutte & Co.
and F. N. Hoffstad.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 15.—An order for the largest judgment ever entered by the Washington county court was made yesterday by Judge J. A. Melville in the case of the New York Trust Company trustees against C. Jutte & Co. and F. N. Hoffstad. The defendants defaulted in a mortgage for $100,000 with installments of interest due on April 1, 1906, as well as two installments subsequently maturing to and including the installment of April 1, 1908. A hearing in the case was held today, the defense admitting the default and agreeing to the decree of the court for judgment in the entire amount specified in the mortgage with interest.

The court directed the trustee to sell at public auction in whole or in part, the land covered by the mortgage also the steamers C. W. Thom as, Glenner, Clewett and Charley Jutte, boats 2,000 shares in the Marine Coal Company. The land includes about 2,000 acres of coal lands in East and West Pike Run townships and Bensenville borough. The date set for the trial is September 1 next. The mortgage was given by the Jutte company to secure $100,000 issue of bonds it was executed June 1, 1904.

REFUSED TO PAY AND SMASHED DISHES.Trouble in Restaurant Over Customer's Refusal to Settle for Meal
Is Echoed in Court

A few days ago a Trotter man while intoxicated went into Cuneo's restaurant, and after eating what he wanted left without paying for the meal. One of the employees of the restaurant went after him and brought him back. He man refused to pay for his meal and threw the dishes on the floor. A scuffle ensued and the Trotter man in attempting to strike Antonio Cuneo landed on the floor.

Officer Howard Anderson arrived and arrested both men and at the police station they left for the Trotter man did not leave his name and promised to return for a hearing before Burgess A. D. Soisson. The Cuneos demanded a hearing and insisted upon it but it was impossible to get the aggressor, so last evening their forfeit was returned and the Trotter man was released. The restaurant men to hereafter call an officer when there is trouble in their restaurant instead of taking things in their own hands. The Cuneos claim that if one struck the man and say that they will prosecute him further.

TRANSMIGRATION OF BRYANISM.

The fiercely aggressive Bryanism of the sometimes Democratic Uniontown Genius is more amusing than convincing. Here is a verbatim sample of the emphasis he puts on the sermon on the mount, but this is no denying it pleased the masses of the people as did the sermon on the mount. It also pleased all Democrats, though not all of those who think they are Democrats and are not.

The Democrats and the real friends of the people, and when you see a man who likes to rub up against the rich and get on his knees before the golden calf and feel he is better than the God-made man because he owns a few man-made dollars, that man is not a Democrat but a demagogue.

The Democratic platform is the best ever written by the Democratic or any other party, and the man who does not like the platform is not a Democrat. The man who believes the rich should rule is not a Democrat. The Democrats believe and declare the people shall rule.

There is no denying the fact that the Trusts are ruling now, they brought on the present panic and are maintaining high prices for their products and lowering the price of labor, and a vote for Trust is a vote to continue Trust domination.

No relief can be expected from Democratic sources. The only hope lies in Democratic success. If the people are to rule the next President must be a Democrat. We fear that Editor Keffer is aping Editor Bryan.

Bryan says his election as President is essential to the registration of Divine decrees. Keffer likens Bryan's speech to the sermon on the mount. Bryan has spent twelve years in slandering over the Common People. Keffer declares that the Democrats are the Real Friends of the People.

We, the People, Shall Rule!

TAX COLLECTOR BROWN'S BRAVE ANNOUNCEMENT.

Tax Collector Brown gives notice that he intends to collect his duplicate without fear, favor or affection in a prompt and businesslike manner. Tax Collector Brown should stick to this declaration. It may seem a little hard for some people to pay two or three years' taxes within one and the same year, but after they have done this they will not be called upon to do it again, but only to pay annually, and the annual payments will be no greater hardship than they have been under the old slipshod, dilapidated, tampering, procrastinating policy of paying when the cows come home about six o'clock next summer instead of at the appointed hour.

Tax Collector Brown has set him self a task which will be more disagreeable than difficult, but he will find when he has completed it that like the dentist who has pulled the aching tooth he will be blessed as a benefactor.

Once the people get the habit of paying their taxes within the year there will be no further difficulty in collecting them within the year and Town Council and School Boards will always know "where they are at."

THE COUNTY JAIL NO PLACE FOR BOYS.

The newspaper discovery of a ten year old boy in the county jail charged with the trivial offense of stealing tomatos from a Macon town garden aroused a wave of indignation and sympathy which resulted in the boy being bailed out and sent home.

It now develops that the lad was sent to jail with his father's approval, and that the latter was preparing to lodge a charge of incorrigibility against his son with a view to having him sent to a public place of confinement.

It is stated, however, that the lad took his confinement much to heart, and it is thought that the lesson of the jail will be a sufficient corrective. If so, it was perhaps no error to send him to jail, but as a general proposition the county jail is no place for a boy of tender years, and it is an offense against humanity to send him there. It is safe to say that no boy of ten years is irredeemable. He should be helped up by good influences not thrust down by contact with hardened criminals.

If it is necessary to arrest boys they should be confined separate and apart from the adult inmates of the county jail, and it is a duty of the Court and the Commissioners to see that some such place of confinement is provided.

GUARDING AGAINST ACCIDENTS IN SHAFTS.

The accident at Trotter works which caused the death of a carpenter leads the district mine inspector to suggest that a law be passed requiring planks to be lowered into mine shafts by more secure devices than a mere chain clutch and the worthy inspector recommends that a bolt be placed in each plank for the purpose of securely attaching the plank to the lowering apparatus and thus avoiding the possibility of such accidents.

The remedy of the inspector is repeated with the elements of safety, but it would be a slow and costly method of lowering the planks and one not necessarily demanded by the circumstances.

It is recorded of the Trotter accident that had his victim remained under cover of the stailway where he was when the lowering process began he could not have been injured.

The mining laws should provide safety as far as possible but they should avoid exorbitant requirements. The bolt in every plank may be proper for some workings but not for all.

The Uniontown Herald says: "The consumption of water in the town has increased to such an extent that the demand for an efficient protection is such that the Uniontown Water Company has found it necessary to supplement its regular supply by using a liberal amount from the 'rough water' of the town." We would be inclined to think the word "supplement" was intended for "supplant" but after the fearful row the Herald raised some months ago over misplacement of a typographical error in the County we must assume that it makes no mistakes itself and that Uniontown is about to discard all its famous mountain water and drink the dirty water of the despoiled youth.

The Conneltsville police draw the color line of deputy constables.

The whistling nuisance order will perhaps have to be supplemented by some enforcement of the municipal order.

The News thinks we must have a boom or Bryan. Bryan would be a boom for his Democratic boomers.

The New Suits.

The one question we want to ask you is: Whether you have seen them or not. Last week we asked you to come and see them whether you wished to buy now or later. Here are the suits we have here are worth seeing. The invitation is still open. We can say now that we will sell more of these suits during the month of August than we ever expected but we did not sell a suit we would be satisfied in having you learn the prices in our suit department. Not a word to say in regard to the way these suits are made the styles on the materials, simply want to tell from a price standpoint and leave you to decide all the rest for you to form your opinion about. As to the prices, for perfectly plain suits some will be in a position to mark their suits on a closer margin of profit than most stores can afford. Then again we expect these little prices to increase the sales in this suit department this fall season. We intend to bring a large suit business this season. Then we will have prices on suits that are here that will make it cost you something to buy your suit without seeing these. We know the custom to talk style and quality at the beginning of the season and pick a favorite suit but these suits we have here at these prices induce us to start this piler talk right at the beginning of the suit season.

August Bargains

Don't find you needing a nice, comfortable pair of Oxfords—something you can enjoy yourself in. No better place to get them than at our store, and now a good time to buy them. A nice selection of pretty styles and correct fitting Oxfords at prices you cannot object to paying. Plenty of good warm weather yet to wear them—three months yet. We can fit you, man, woman or child—at money saving prices.

Silk Shirt Waist Suits

A few of these on a table near the front door marked at one half off former prices. That makes you paying for the silk and that's about all.

Children's Black Lace

Hose at 10c

About 20 dozen of these on a table near the front door. Former price was 25 cents the pair. Sizes, 6 to 8.

The Remnant Tables

Short pieces of wool and cotton dress goods at prices that make them attractive. Some of these have enough in them for old skirts and waists and some for children's dresses.

The 50c Bargain

Table

Back in the cloak room were two tables filled with 50 cent bargain. Children's dresses in white and colored muslin under wear for ladies and children some of these cashmere and lower than their original prices. Not a garment in the lot but is worth buying even in this time of August bargains.

NEWS OF A DAY IN SCOTSDALE.

Clerks Defeated Casket and Crescent in City League Last Night.

BOY BADLY STUNG BY BEES.

Methodist Services Tomorrow—Mt. Pleasant Gets Its Express From Here—Items of a Personal Nature From Mill Town.

SCOTSDALE, Aug. 15.—The Clerks and the Casket and Crescent teams of the City League came together on the Leacock park diamond last evening, but it was somewhat more, weakly play than these teams have heretofore put up. The Clerks had easy winning by the score of 7 to 3. Todd of the Clerks held the C. & C. to one hit and bluffed out the sixth when two bases on balls, two singles and a couple of fizzes by Keegan and Eicher, gave them a trio of runs. Errors behind Coughenour gave the Clerks two runs in the third and one in the fourth. In the fifth four singles in succession and a couple of wild throws gave the Clerks four runs and the game. The score:

Clerks	7
Casket	3
Crescent	0

Batteries: Clerks, Todd and Miller; C. & C., Coughenour and Dooley. Struck out by Todd 4; by Coughenour 3. Left on base, 4. Dooley, Umpire, Hawthorne and Stinebaugh.

The standing of the teams to date is as follows:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Scottdale	8	3	.633
Clerks	8	3	.500
Casket	2	4	.333
Crescent	2	4	.333

Monday the game is between the Clerks and Firemen, with Evans and Hawthorne as umpires.

Was Badly Stung. Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Ritchie, west of town, while on their farm Friday got into a "bumble bee" nest, and the insects, enraged at the intrusion, attacked him and stung him severely. Shortly afterward a red rash broke out all over the boy's body, causing alarm. Dr. E. P. Weddell prescribed for the trouble, which was from the excessive poison of the bee stings.

Methodist Services. At the First Methodist Episcopal church, the pastor of which, Rev. W. C. Wether, is away on his vacation, will have regular services tomorrow. In the morning Rev. T. N. Eaton of Mt. Pleasant will preach and in the evening Rev. J. F. Murray, D. D., District Superintendent of the McKeesport District, will preach.

Mt. Pleasant on Map. The Adams Express Company has made Mt. Pleasant a station of Scottdale and is hauling express matter from here, two trips a day being made. Formerly express for Mt. Pleasant came to Tarr and was taken across from there, but it will now be received and shipped from Scottdale.

Of a Personal Nature. C. M. Jarrett is home from several days spent on the Cheat river where he made the best catch of fish for the time he was there, a 16-inch bass that was the envy of all of his companions.

Charles H. Hall, cashier of the Broadway National Bank, and Arthur Skemp, are spending the day in Pittsburgh.

L. M. Eicher of New Castle is the guest of his brothers, W. W. and F. E. Eicher.

The G. A. R. Band will give a free concert at Loucks park at 8 o'clock this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boyd of Pittsburgh are visiting their aunt, Mrs. E. E. Boyd, of Chestnut street.

Mrs. C. A. Colborn has gone to Saginaw, Mich., to visit relatives and friends.

Henry Becklin, an employee of the rolling mill, had a thumb cut off by the slipping of a chain in the hoisting apparatus yesterday afternoon.

Miss Elita Sechrist of Harrisburg was called home Thursday on account of the death of her brother.

Robert Sechrist of El Paso, Texas, died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lydia Sechrist, Scottdale, August 12, after a lingering illness. The funeral was held on Friday from his home on Fifth avenue at 3 o'clock.

Millersburg Merchants' Picnic. The third annual picnic of the Bellevue merchants and business men will take place on Wednesday, August 19, at Lyon's Grove. An attractive program has been arranged, including a baseball game and a large number of athletic events, with attractive prizes for the winners.

Besides Its Excellent Reputation. In traveling students along intellectual lines the Lock Haven State Normal School is unsurpassed for its splendid advantages. Its large student body is handled as if it were a family and the welfare of each one is considered. It has a illustrated catalogue.

CHRISTIANS WALK ALL OVER U. P. TEAM.

Shut Out Tailenders in Church League in One-Sided Game Last Evening.

The Christians walked all over the United Presbyterian team last night and scored them in the kaleidoscope to the tune of 10 to 0. The Christians were strengthened by the acquisition of several new men and throughout the men played steady ball. Behind Dobbie the U. P. team put up miserable ball, stumbling on many easy chances.

Collins did mound duty for the Christians and was well supported. Easily the feat of the game was the good work of T. Jones behind the bat. At bat he pounded out a three-base hit, a double and a single, while his pegging to second was a treat. The Baptists and the Presbyterians play this evening.

The Score:

Christians	10
U. P.	0

Batteries: Collins and T. Jones; Dobbie and Sembover.

LAWSON IN HIS BOSTON OFFICE, WHERE FRENZIED FINANCE IS BEING REVIVED.

Thomas W. Lawson, the stock plunger and foe of "the system" is reviving his fight in Wall Street by the use of hundreds of thousands of dollars in newspaper advertising. This photograph was taken a few days ago and shows the daring financier in his State street office, Boston, surrounded by telephones and ticket tape. It is from this room that he directs his vast operations in Wall Street.

CLARKSBURG MAKING SPURT FOR FIRST PLACE DEFEATS COKERS.

Whoever said, "Can't win 'em all," spoke the truth. Outlucked and outplayed at every stage of the game, Clarksburg, despite a superbly played game by McGinty yesterday afternoon 4 to 3. With the exception of a mighty batting rally and an attempt to win the game in the eighth inning, the Cokers were, strictly speaking, not in it. Dr. Wilson with eight skilled Drummers behind him, was the whole circus while the Clarksburg team was the side show.

Cannon pitched his second game of the week for the locals and he pitched as good ball or better than his rival. Clarksburg's hits were limited in the fifth and seventh innings, while the Cokers got the majority of their swats in the eighth. Behind Wilson the Drummers batted brilliantly. McGinty, who once upon a time adorned a Connellsville uniform, was the whole Johnny with the Big M. All kinds of hits came down in this boy's territory went as one. Alex. Sweeney demonstrated that he needed a week or two to rest up in the mountains. Alex. has been catching every game since the release of Lawson, and the great number of double headers has put him out of commission. A good move that would be appreciated by the fans would be to get a temporary backstop, a college player, for a week, and let Sweeney take a much needed rest.

Up until the fifth inning, when the Moguls broke loose and scored three times, the contest was a pretty one with the odds in favor of Connellsville. In the sixth inning McGinty started trouble with a single past third. With "Sunny" Price playing for a punt, McAvoy, with two strikes on him, slammed the ball between third and short positions. Eicher should have gotten the ball, but he had made a move toward second and could not get his equilibrium in time. Wilson gratified the fans by making three vicious hits, at the great out doors. F. Dawson did the naughty thing by slamming a single to Dave Calhoun. The ball was straight at Dave but it passed on to the great unknown and when it was returned to the infield F. Dawson was consulting on third and McGinty and McAvoy were on the bench.

A little error gave the Drummers three more in the seventh. McAvoy was passed and Doctor Wilson again fanned. F. Dawson laid down a protty one along the first base line and beat it out. McKenna drove a hot one that hit the pitching stick on a fly and bounced high in the air, everybody running safe. Conway blinged one down in "Sunny" Price's direction, who booted it into the air with his glove. The ball bounced high and far into left center and when Dave Calhoun threw wild to third in returning the ball, all three runners crossed the plate.

Elmer Cannon started a batting rally in the eighth that netted two runs. Four straight singles were made in a row by Cannon, Price, Yeodt and Eicher. Cannon scoring on Eicher's hit. With the bases densely populated Calhoun fanned the breeses, derors trimmed the Clerubs. The Charcoal Clerubs who started the season in such a whirlwind fashion are now in fourth place with the chances for worse.

Today is Boosters' Day. If you want to see Connellsville finish the season and have a franchise in a fast league next year buy a ticket. Cannon pitched as good or better ball than Doctor Wilson, but the errors did the work. Exciting struggles are being held in the Church league every night. An average crowd of 150 witness every game.

"Sunny" Price has promised his friends that he will take the 100 yard dash today. F. Dawson is the only Clarksburger that can run anyway near as fast as the third baseman. This afternoon's field day is the first one of its kind ever attempted in a local minor league. Every year one is held in the major leagues. A crowd of 500 paid admissions this afternoon will nearly see the season through.

Tiffany and Eicher contributed a pretty double play. With Guy Dawson on first, McKenna hit a hot, fast ground ball to Tiffany, who whipped it to Eicher and received the ball back at first base.

"Red" McKenna, who started the season with the once was Scottdale team, is putting up a nice game. Although rather slow on the bases, he is a clever man on the word go. A change in Connellsville's batting order might of some good. Eicher is not batting as he should for a big stoker, and a change whereby Wallace would hit in the place of Eicher would be appreciated by the fans.

John Dawson is not with the Drummers on this trip. His position is being filled by Jimmy Clarke while McKenna is holding down the right pasture. Dave Calhoun did his share toward handling the game to Clarksburg. In the fifth he let F. Dawson's ground ball go through him, two men scoring, and he threw wild in the seventh, another score coming. In the eighth he was the batter with three men on bases, but he struck out.

Bob Conway contributed a pretty play when he ran clear over to the ropes and took a foul fly off Cannon's bat.

Turn out today and root for Connellsville. Two games from Clarksburg today would mean a chance for second place. This year's team is in Connellsville's first division and the fans should show their appreciation by turning out in full force.

Yeodt was all over the field at one time. The German is playing every minute of the game.

Probably Wallace and Eicher will be Montgomery's mound selection for today's battles.

Bernard Stillwagon, who played with Connellsville's independent team, was on the field practicing. He may be given a tryout next week.

Connellsville has two double headers with Uniontown during the October series. The club can play them off if they want to and do not have if they do not want to.

In the ninth inning Frank Dawson hit one between Yeodt and Tiffany. Tiffany made an effort to get the ball as did Yeodt. The German got the ball but it went for a hit as there was no one on first.

CRESCENTS EASY WINNERS.

South Connellsville Snowed Under in Five Inning Game.

The Crescents took batting and base running practice last evening in the game between the Crescents and South Connellsville, easily winning 9 to 3. South Connellsville's batters were connected with almost no hits until the final round when he was inevitable. His support was not of the all-edge variety, many errors being chalked up by his team mates.

The main feature of the game was Turner's phenomenal slide for third base in the last inning when he hit the dust head first while still a distance from the bag. Lating for the Crescents pitched winning ball throughout and was supported brilliantly in the field. Tonight the White Sox and South Connellsville will play. The score:

L. T. U. Convention Turns

lution.

To Forestall Its Defeat President
Lynch Requests Its Withdrawal
Republican Headquarters in Chicago Ready for Work.

Boston, Aug. 15.—A resolution that the International Typographical union endorse the national Democratic platform and candidates, presented at the fifty-fourth annual convention of the union in this city, developed a keen and spirited debate. The resolution was finally withdrawn by request of the president, who suggested that its withdrawal would be preferable to having it defeated, since a defeat would put the union on record as having "known Bryan."

The resolution was introduced by Delegate Henry West of Birmingham, Ala. As soon as it was placed before the convention a vigorous and determined argument started. One delegate declared that the union rules prevented the discussion of politics, but President Lynch ruled that the resolution could be discussed. An appeal was taken, but the chair was sustained. Bull's Review of Trade Finds Conditions Encouraging

New York, August 15.—Dun & Co's
Weekly Review of Trade says today:

"Reports of trade continue irregular, with pronounced gains in some sections and no improvement in others, the net result being encouraging, however, and continuing regarding the future growth more confident each week. Steel demand is steadily broadening, each week bringing a larger percentage of active capacity, and the improvement is especially gratifying in view of the few orders from the railways. Export contracts are reported in every department of the industry from pig iron to steel rails, and further improvement in this respect is also anticipated. Sales of pig iron are made for delivery during the first half of next year and some coke ovens have also received orders covering the same period, while there is a larger movement of ore down the lakes. The higher lines of steel continue most actively engaged, notably wire products, pipe and plates. Textile markets have been dominated this week by the second big auction sale, buyers actively devoting attention to seeking bargains there or awaiting the effect on the general market of those sales."

Former Ohioan Sings His Bride.
Clay City, Ill., Aug. 13.—"Something will happen on Aug. 13." The foregoing statement is the substance of a note written by Louis A. Ryan of Bridgeport, Ill., who thrice wounded his bride at Noble, Ill., and then turned the revolver on himself and inflicted a probably fatal wound in the head. The note was found in Ryan's pocket following the shooting. Mrs. Ryan was shot twice in the left arm and once in the breast, but it is believed that she will recover. Before their marriage the principals in the tragedy lived in Delphos, O.

BIG BALLOON BLOWS UP

Careless Bystander Causes Tragedy
by Lighting a Match.

London, Aug. 15.—The Franco-British exhibition grounds were rocked by an earthquake and hundreds of windows were broken by the explosion of the huge balloon of Captain Lovelace, an American aeronaut who has been giving aerial performances at the exhibition. Two were killed by the explosion and a dozen frightfully burned in the mass of flames that engulfed the crowd when the big gas bag burst.

Miss Hill, age eighteen, secretary to Captain Lovelace, was one of the persons killed. The other persons killed, a man and some of those who were killed, were also employed by Captain Lovelace.

Captain Lovelace is himself in a dangerous condition due to his injuries, grief and the excitement attending his personal supervision of the work of rescue.

The balloon was being inflated preparatory to a sail, and a great crowd was watching the work. When the huge bag was nearly filled a bystander lit a match in violation of warnings conspicuously posted near the balloon. Instantly there was an explosion that made the earth tremble. The bag was torn asunder and a wall of flame enveloped scores that were standing closest to the balloon.

JAILER IS JAILED IN HIS OWN JAIL.

Charged With Having Aided the Escape of a Prisoner. Man Himself
Taken into Custody.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 15.—Last night Deputy Sheriff Rice visited the Ohio county jail in this city and served a warrant of arrest upon Jailer William McGaughan charging him with conspiring aiding and abetting in the escape of a prisoner. McGaughan was taken before Justice of the Peace Hobbs and in default of bail was committed to the jail over which he presides. It is expected that he will be able to furnish bail soon.

The arrest of McGaughan has created a great sensation. He is well known in the trial section and for years has been prominent on the harness turf as trainer and owner. The arrest followed a confession made to prosecuting Attorney Schuck by an alleged accomplice of McGaughan, William Pickett. Pickett in September 1907 was finishing a five months term on an minor charge and had thirty days to serve when he was approached by McGaughan so he deposes who handed him the jail keys and told him to release another prisoner, Rose Murphy, who was in the county jail pending transportation to the state penitentiary to serve a year's term. Pickett declares that he did as directed taking Murphy out through the residence section of the jail, which was occupied by McGaughan.

DARING MISS PECK CLIMBS 25,000 FEET.

Young Woman Scales Highest Peak
in the Western Hemisphere
Her Second Attempt.

Lima, Peru, Aug. 15.—Miss Annie S. Peck of Providence, R. I. the mountain climber, signaled at 4 o'clock in the afternoon her arrival at an altitude of 25,000 feet on Mount Huascarán, the summit of which is covered with perpetual snow. The energy displayed by Miss Peck in scaling this mountain has brought forth expressions of astonishment from the natives here. She is accompanied by two trained Alpine climbers.

Miss Peck left New York two months ago on an expedition to reach the summit of Mount Huascarán, Peru, which she believed to be the highest peak in the western hemisphere. On an earlier trial she was compelled to give up the attempt after reaching a height of 17,500 feet owing to the cowardice of her guides. By reaching an altitude of 25,000 feet Miss Peck has exceeded higher than any man or woman in the world. The previous record was held by W. W. Graham who reached a height of 23,800 feet in the Himalayas.

SAVING TIMBER IN COAL REGION.

Plants for Treating Material to Be Installed in State.

FOLLOWS SERIES OF TESTS.

Forest Service Is Interested and Will Lend Every Possible Aid to Movement—Scarcity of Mine Tunnel Timber Brings About Change.

Plants for treating mine timbers and railroad ties are to be erected by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Company in the Pennsylvania anthracite region. This action follows a series of tests with wood preservatives made by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company which has extended over three years. The tests showed that by the proper application of creosote and zinc chloride the life of peeled, seasoned timber was more than doubled. Indeed, much of the timber treated may last throughout the life of the mine.

As a result of these tests, which were made with the Forest Service, the companies are about to treat round and square mine timbers and railroad ties on a large scale. The Forest Service is supervising the construction of the necessary plants and will place them on a satisfactory working basis. The preservative treatment of mine timbers has become an important matter for anthracite mines because of the growing local scarcity of the supply of suitable timbers. The chestnut and oak near at hand have been practically exhausted and the Pennsylvania pitch pine can be used only in small quantities. Birch bark and New York hemlock, a locally and short-lived plant from Virginia and South Carolina are now being drawn into use. At the same time economy of consumption is being sought through using preservatives to reduce the decay of timbers in the mines and cutting over waste to save and utilize sound portions.

The transportation of timber from remote forests means high freight charges, a great loss of time and an uncertain supply. Delay in timber shipment has frequently forced the suspension of operations requiring timbers of peculiar size. Local utilization and particularly saving the life of timber in service by means of chemical treatment afford the best ways of solving the problem.

With a view to widening the field of supply, several additional kinds of timber have been introduced in mining work. For example for shaft and roadway construction timber Douglas fir has been procured from the States of Washington at a cost not greater than the price of the longest pine round cypress props have been purchased at shortened pine prices and a market has been found for black gum in the pulping and rollers of slopes and rope hauling ways.

By use of utilizing props of decayed timber round girders props have been sawed into short planks and small dimension material with profitable results. It is said that a surprisingly large amount of sound lumber may be cut out of discarded mine props formerly considered rotten and worthless.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON • COPYRIGHT, 1936, BY McCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

Afterward Mrs. Ess Kay was cool to Mr. Doremus and was as good as cold. If he weren't Mrs. Van der Windt's cousin, he would have been on our place on deck to give me the news that the third class hero (as he calls the bronze young man) refused to be second class. He had asked permission to give the cabin offered him to the girl whose life he had saved and the mother.

"It's for you to say yes or no, Lady Betty," announced Mr. Doremus, because it's your show. You set the top spinning."

"Is it to have nothing more to do with the thing?" Mrs. Ess Kay asked for me quickly. "She is very sorry she commenced it and has lost the small interest she felt in the beginning. I do hope that trump or beggar or whatever he is hasn't got it in his conceited head that Lady Betty Doremus has bothered herself about his insignificant affairs, and he'll be thrusting himself upon her notice in some way which will be very disagreeable for me, as her guardian."

"Well, he has sent a message of thanks to every one concerned," said Mr. Doremus. "I don't know whether he put Lady Betty at the top of the list or not, and if that's the way you feel about our nice little stunt I expect it's just as well not to inquire further."

All the rest of the trip has been spoiled for me by the hateful way in which the excitement of that day ended, and it does seem too bad, for everything might have been so nice.

Whether people really do make ill-natured jokes or not I don't know. But anyhow, Mrs. Ess Kay keeps hinting that they do, which is almost as disagreeable for me. She says that they have nicknamed the bronze man "Lady Betty's hero" and this has made me so self-conscious that I can't bear to go near the part of the deck where you look over into the stateroom for fear some silly creature may think I'm trying to seduce him. I feel as if I had been a conspicuous idiot, and I'm so uncomfortable with Mrs. Ess Kay now that I expect to be wretched in her house. I can't talk to her even with Sally, because after all she's Mrs. Ess Kay's cousin.

I wish I had a new two inches and green hair, and then perhaps mother and Vic would have let me stop at home. Still I can't help taking an interest in ship life, and now that it's the morning of the last day on board I look back on it all as if it ought to have been even more fun than it was.

I enjoyed hearing about the marconigrams when they came. It seemed like living in a tale by Stans favorite, Jules Verne, to have messages come flying to us in mid-ocean like invisible carrier pigeons. I enjoyed having Mr. Doremus tell me about his luck in the big pools when the men bet on the days run, and I'm afraid I rather revelled in seeing a row on deck one evening when one man accused another of being a cheat and a professional gambler and almost cried about some money he'd lost. If I had been the first man I wouldn't have trusted the other in the beginning because he had fat lips, greasy black curls and wicked eyes so close together you felt they might run into one if he winked too hard on a hot day. If I had been as stupid as to trust him I wouldn't have been ashamed to make a fuss afterward. I think people ought to be sporting.

I liked the "captain's dinner," too in honor of the last night on board, with the flags and paper flower decorations, the band playing military music the dishes on the table named after famous generals and the stowaways flitting in a long procession when the salon had been darkened each carrying a brightly colored, illuminated ice cake with tiny English and American and German flags stuck into the top. Yes, I liked everything, except—but now it is nearly over. America is just round the corner of the world.

The tall shapes were bright and vivid now, as giant hollyhocks growing in irregular rows. Still they did not look one bit like houses or offices where people could work without going stark, staring mad. I got a queer idea in my head that the houses themselves must be buried deep under ground like bulbs, with only their towers sticking up.

The next thing that happened in the dream was slowing majestically into our own dock and that was wonderful. The whole place was alive with faces, mostly pretty girls' faces under fascinating hats, gay as flowers in a flower show, parting above patterns of brilliant blossoms. And they had all been grown in honor of us.

There was a wild waving of handkerchiefs on the ship and a faint fluttering of white among the flowers as if a flock of butterflies had been frightened up into the air. Still we were a long time getting in, and I grew quite impatient. But finally Louise had attended to my packing, took charge of my handbag, my sunshade and coat, with her mistress and Miss Woodburn's things. The moment had come to bid the ship goodbye.

"Now," said Mrs. Ess Kay, slipping her arm into mine. I wonder dear child if you would mind being left alone to deal with the customs house people? You'd stand under your own letter 'R' of course.

"Oh, Katherine, do you think even Letter B which sounds so like a warning to young men a proper chaperon for a dutiful daughter?" exclaimed Sally Woodburn.

I laughed but Mrs. De Kay didn't. She evidently considers things come off subject for civility. She went on without answering. I'm under the impression that I could have been better off with a letter 'R' than with a letter 'B' which sounds so like a warning to young men a proper chaperon for a dutiful daughter.

I laughed but Mrs. De Kay didn't. She evidently considers things come off subject for civility. She went on without answering. I'm under the impression that I could have been better off with a letter 'R' than with a letter 'B' which sounds so like a warning to young men a proper chaperon for a dutiful daughter.

While I was wondering whether they were talking of a lady or a ship I caught sight of a majestic gentleman obligingly holding a torch up to light the world. Then I knew it was the statue which I had read about.

"What do you think of her?" asked Mr. Doremus.

"She's a grande dame," I said. "Now I know why your girls hold themselves so well. They're trying to live up to the ideal American woman. But she isn't as big as I thought she would be. Nothing ever is as big as you think it's going to be, especially when Americans have told you about it. For one has been brought up to believe that their big things are bigger than anybody else's in the whole world."

"So they are," said Mr. Doremus, "only where all the things are big you don't notice them for the high grass. And over there's some of the grass."

He pointed and I saw a great number of enormous objects shaped like chimneys and apparently about a mile high scattered aimlessly along the horizon, which was a brilliant blimp blue.

"What are they?" I asked. "Great strange factories of some sort?"

"No. Houses where pretty women live and offices where men make the money for them to live on."

"You must be joking. Women would be afraid to perch up there in the sky. Besides, it would take too long to go up and down."

"Nothing takes long in America. And it comes natural to our women to perch up high. Statues aren't the only things we buy pedestals for this side of the popliteal tank. You just wait and see."

"I don't need to wait to see that American men are nice to women," said I. "Perhaps no nicer than Englishmen really, only you seem to take a great deal more trouble. Fancy all the men at Mrs. Van der Windt's table drawing lots every night for the right to sit by her and the two Misses Eastman. I don't believe it would have occurred to Englishmen. The ones who really wanted to sit there would have tried to get to their places first that's all. I do think it was pretty of you."

"What if it? Especially supposing none of us particularly wanted—but never mind. Talking of pretty things here are the docks."

They were big enough to satisfy even my expectations and I wished that I had been taken by some one long ago to visit London docks so that I might know whether ours were better or worse. One never thinks of going to see things at home but I began to suspect that I might some day be troubled with jealous pangs and need to be stuffed with a lot of facts about England though until I knew Americans I've been in the habit of thinking facts the least interesting things in the world. They seemed like chairs to sit on or floors to walk on without noticing what you were doing but I suppose it might be awkward without chairs and floors.

Soon we were near enough to New York to see the tremendous chimneys things clearly and they sharpened the impression that I was sailing straight into a dream. There could be no such things in the real world. They wouldn't be possible. But the dream felt very interesting and intense all of a sudden, and I didn't want to wake up from it just then in spite of Mrs. Ess Kay.

The tall shapes were bright and vivid now, as giant hollyhocks growing in irregular rows. Still they did not look one bit like houses or offices where people could work without going stark, staring mad. our smartest young men on board. What do you think of them as compared with Englishmen?"

Long before this I had made up my mind that he couldn't have anything to do with the customs or if he did that it was no wonder Mrs. Ess Kay had been driven to scolding in the salon. I was glad now that his nose was bleeding and I turned my back upon him because it was the most emphatic gesture I could think of. But as I faced round the other way wondering if my luggage would ever come another man pushed through the 'R's' who had got their boxes and all most bounded into a foot of unoccupied space in front of me.

MIST ROLLS AWAY FOR IRA D. SANKEY.

Famous Singing Evangelists' Labors Come to an End.

WAS ASSOCIATED WITH MOODY.

Although Totally Blind for the Last Five Years, He Has Kept on Writing Hymns That Has Made His Name Famous.

New York Aug. 15.—Ira D. Sankey known as an evangelist throughout his Christian world is dead at his home in Brooklyn. Mr. Sankey was sixty-eight years old. For the last five years he had been blind and had suffered from a complication of diseases brought on by overwork. But almost to the very last he worked at hymn writing.

His tours throughout this country and Europe with Dwight L. Moody the evangelist brought him into wide prominence. Sankey it might be said wrote the Gospel hymns of the world in almost every language known to man. Sankey's hymns are sung by him.

COOK WIELDS CLEAVER

But Wounded Employer Shoots With Deadly Effect.

East St. Louis Ill. Aug. 15.—Trouble which is said to have started when H. De John, thirty-five years old head cook of the Transit hotel, was asked to hurry the dinner, resulted in the fatal shooting of De John by James Sheehan, proprietor of the hotel. The shooting followed a fight in which Sheehan's face was laid open by De John who used a meat cleaver as a weapon.

About noon Mrs. Sheehan wife of the hotel owner is said to have gone to the kitchen and asked De John to hurry the cooking. The cook, Mrs. Sheehan says, replied with an insulting remark and she told her husband. Sheehan went to the kitchen to rebuke De John who picked up a cleaver and struck his employer in the face, it is said. With the blood streaming from his face Sheehan ran from the hotel with the cook at his heels. Daring into a nearby saloon Sheehan got a revolver. When De John appeared Sheehan opened fire three bullets taking effect. De John died on the way to a hospital. Sheehan is under arrest.

Negro Disembowels Policeman. New Orleans Aug. 15.—John I. Carroll, a veteran member of the local police force, was cut to death by a negro cook on a train of the Louisville and Nashville railroad. At the depot here. Becoming engaged in a row the negro was placed under arrest by Patrolman Carroll but the officer's hand had hardly been placed on his shoulder when he seized a carving knife and drove it into the patrolman's stomach. The negro fled. Carroll fired two shots at him as he disappeared in another car and then fell down on the platform. The negro was captured later after being fatally wounded by officers in pursuit.

Chapter 3

FEEL you have seen nothing but water for days. It's odd how excited you are on seeing a little land. Just a little, little land and not at all interesting to look at, a strip of gray sand or a patch of green grass, and you have been only a few days away from such things, yet somehow you want to jump up and down and shout for joy.

More than half the first class passengers on our ship were Americans, coming home, and I suppose they had gone away because they wanted to go. They had liked they could have stayed in their own country as well as not and I heard some of them saying during the voyage that they could they would spend nine months out of the year in Paris. But they came as much as over the first hump of sand we saw as if we were discovering the north pole. Some of them had taken this trip a dozen times or maybe more, but any one would have thought it was as new to them.

5 Free Trips to Atlantic City.

Every purchase made during this August Sale entitles the purchaser to a numbered ticket which may secure to him or her a free trip to Atlantic City.

Burgess A. D. Soisson will select five numbers which will be unknown even to him. He will place each number in a separate envelope. His first selection will be from a group of numbers between Nos. 1 and 2,000, the second choice will be from a group numbered between 2,000 and 4,000, etc. These numbers will be made known on the following days: The first on Wednesday, August 19; the second on Friday, August 21; the third on Monday, August 24; the fourth on Wednesday, August 26; the fifth on Friday, August 28.

A numbered ticket will be given with every purchase you make, and if this ticket corresponds with one of Mr. Soisson's selection you will be given free transportation to Atlantic City, or if you prefer it the equivalent in money. If you have a purchase to make (no matter how small the amount) it's a logical action to make it here. If it's only five cents it may mean a free trip to the seashore. Wonderful reductions are in force throughout the store. Everything you buy affords you remarkable savings in addition to the opportunity of securing through that purchase one of these five free trips.

This Sale Will Begin Monday, August 17 and Continue Ten Selling Days.
